Opis produktu

With their first Demo the duo DIGEST! proves that not much is needed to decently rip everything apart. Death Metal without unnecessary additions but with the certain something! Old school as fuck!

In times in which it seems that thousands of records are released every day Digest! appear with their rude, blunt and snotty Death Metal, push you to the side, get their instruments ready without talking too much and blast 4 enormously strong songs through your ears with such a potential that some other bands have to struggle to keep up with it. That's how Death Metal works!
